

Congress of the United States

House of Representatives • Washington, D.C. 20515

OLC #77-1937

Executive Registry

77-4413

May 12, 1977

Mr. Reginald D. Woodcock

[Redacted Address]

Dear Mr. Woodcock:

Thank you for your recent letter expressing your views on certain subjects.

In an effort to get some answers for you, I have contacted the Central Intelligence Agency and the Government Printing Office on your behalf.

As soon as I receive their reply, I shall, of course, contact you again.

Sincerely,

Richard T. Schulze
Member of Congress

rdi
bcc: Central Intelligence Agency
Congressional Liaison
Washington, D. C. 20505

Government Printing Office
Congressional Liaison
North Capitol & H Streets
Washington, D. C. 20401

RECEIVED
(Congress)

PLEASE RESPOND TO:

☐ 223 CANNON HOUSE OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20515
(202) 225-5761

Approved For Release 2004/03/15 : CIA-RDP80M00165A001800010011-3

☐ 16 WEST LANCASTER AVENUE
PAOLI, PENNSYLVANIA 19301
800-362-5652 (TOLL FREE)
215-648-0555

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/03/15 : CIA-RDP80M00165A001800010011-3

April 28th, 1977.

Hon. Richard T. Schultze,
United States Congressman,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Fifth District,
Washington, D.C. #20515

Dear Mr. Schultze:

Respectfully acknowledge receipt of your
April 4th letter.

Am enclosing a clipping re two CIA employees (being fired. Who is responsible for hiring such untrustworthy employees ?

Another clipping, re a US Representative from Oklahoma trying to get the Government to pay for improvements on his home there. Just what kind of a crook is this person from Oklahoma ?

In 1976, I received a several hundred page so-called Report, mainly dealing with some proposed and further changes in locks, river route, locks, etc. on the upper Mississippi River.
It actually had many pages of full length speeches by various Senators and Representatives. Even if several thousand of this Report were printed by the US Printing Office, one copy would cost well over $1. Who is responsible for such outrageous spending of our savings ?

Why has not the Congress and Senate in the past several years actually done something to lower the outrageous cost to all Americans of coffee, by South American countries and a few large wholesalers here ?

I have a so-called Report to the Congress re the Nixon's three home, (1974) forwarded by the General Accounting Office, Washington, DC; -is about 90 pages, with many unnecessary photographs.

When is this outrageous spending of American taxpayers savings going to stop ?

Respectfully yours,

Reginald D. Woodcock

enl.2

Approved For Release 2004/03/15 : CIA-RDP80M00165A001800010011-3

pub-
plot
Hyde
ed.

cause of House ethics rules. He suggested that the money might be put in escrow. "Some of my friends apparently got carried away," he added.

arge cache es in New

An inter-

ortar shells, asting caps and
in an apartment
d residents from called in Army ex-
the material to a rce base. The apart-ant, identified as Gary 31, was being sought for ssession of firearms. The t to the apartment after chilround parts of weapons in y fields and gave them to po-Rogers' neighbors said they ought he was a gunsmith.

A congressman's friends seek to raise $22,500 for an extension to his home.

The drive to raise the money to add a study and memento room to Rep. Thomas Steed's home in Shawnee, Okla., is being conducted by his former campaign manager, R. W. Moore, and his son, Richard N. Steed. Steed, 73, a 15-term Democrat, said he had already arranged to finance the extension and probably could not accept the contribution be-

4-267-77

CIA chief fires two after probe

By Bob Woodward
Washington Post Service

WASHINGTON — CIA Director Adm. Stansfield Turner fired two middle-level agency employees yesterday after learning that they had provided unauthorized assistance to a former CIA officer allegedly involved in selling explosive devices and other material overseas.

In an interview, Turner confirmed that he had asked for and received resignations from the two employees, adding that he had agonized over the matter and found it "the most difficult decision I have made in 31 years" of military service.

Turner declined to name the employees.

He said that they had done nothing illegal, adding, "They displayed a lack of professionalism and judgment which in my view endangers our agency. I lost confidence in the individuals concerned, and do not feel that strict control of this agency can be maintained had they been permitted to remain."

Turner said he had personally begun an internal investigation after a published report two weeks ago about the alleged activities of Edwin P. Wilson, a former CIA operative (See FIRINGS on 2-A)

27 May 77

OLC will prepare answer
on this document
per Joan/OLC.

Jo